The American Association of Law Teachers (AALT) of Law in Education (CAPSLE) and the Canadian Association of Law Teachers (CALT) are pleased to announce the call for applications for the $2000 Annual Award for Excellence in Forensic Science. The award is designed to recognize the contributions of Canadian law teachers to research and law teaching.

The award will be given to a law teacher who has submitted a proposal for research in the field of forensic science and has contributed substantially to the field of forensic science. The proposal should be submitted in writing, including a summary of the research and a statement of the expected impact of the research on forensic science.

Applicants must be eligible for the award and hold a PhD, LLB, or equivalent degree. The award is open to all Canadian law teachers, regardless of their employer or institution.

Applications must be submitted by November 15, 2023, and should be delivered by email toinfo@ccil-ccdi.ca.

The Selection Committee will review the applications and make its determination on the basis of the applicant's academic record, the quality of the proposed research, and its potential impact on forensic science.

The winners will be notified by December 15, 2023, and the winners will be presented at the CALT annual conference.

To be eligible for the award, applicants must be members of the Canadian Association of Law Teachers (CALT) and must have been employed by a Canadian law school for at least three years. Applicants must also have a PhD, LLB, or equivalent degree in forensic science or a related discipline.

The award is open to all Canadian law teachers, regardless of their employer or institution.
